THE APPELLATE DIVISION DECLARES THAT IT IS CONSTITUTIONAL.

COMMISSIONERS MAY NOW PREPARE ANOTHER PLAN TO TAKE THE PLACE OF THAT RE-

JECTED BY THE SUPREME COURT. yesterday handed down a decision upholding the constitutionality of the Rapid Transit act. The matter came before the court on an appeal brought by "The Sun" Printing and Publishing Association and other property-owners. It was recommending an underground system. That its merits, was to approve certain plans. The rity of the court, and Justices Van Brunt and would be essentially vicious and erroneous. To hold that the Legislature of this State tion to put upon the fundamental law.

of reaching their homes at such hours without being crushed in body or worn in nerve."

After referring to the Court of Appeals upcolding the building of the Brooklyn Bridge,

When we recall the fact already adverted to that the evil in question was one which private capital was disposed to leave unremedied, the obnoxious element of paternalism or of competition by a city with its citizens in the business walks of Efe entirely disappears and we find, not, as contended, the entering wedge of socialism, but simply novel municipal work undertaken under the stress of dire necessity.

In closing Justice Barrett says:

It is claimed that the Legislature had no authority to provide a referendum to the people of the city. It has, however, been abundantly settled that there is no constitutional objection to an enactment re-ferring to a municipality or other civil division of the It has, however, has beet in to an enactment referring to a municipality or other civil division of the State the question whether it desires the passage of a statute particularly affecting it. Lastly, there is nothing in the act which can be said to allow the city or the Commissioners to enter into a contract in violation of the provisions of Section 10 of Article 8 of the Constitution, to the effect that "no county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which, including existing indebtedness, shall exceed 10 per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation as it appeared by the assessment roles of said county or city on the last assessment for State or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtness." It is to be presumed that public officers will do their duty; and one of their first duties is to respect and obey the Constitution. The act is not invalid, because under it the Commissioners might possibly make a contract which would transgress the provision in question; in other words, make an illegal contract in disregard of their duty. The act itself contemplates nothing of the kind. Nor does it appear as a matter of fact that such a contract will necessarily follow the due exertion of this act.

We have thus considered all the questions presented by the present record, and our conclusion is that the acts in question are not in conflict with any provision of the Constitution. The judgment appealed from was therefore right, and should be affirmed with costs.

Justice Ingraham, in his dissenting opinion,

If the public character of the business or use to which the property is put controls, I can see no reason why the city of New-York should not be compelled to erect hotels to be used for the accommodation of guests, theatres to be used for the accommodator its citizens, elevators to be used by the railroads for loading grain from their cars, stage or cab lines for the carrying of passengers or for almost any use or purpose which is required for the convenience or amusement of the people. It is solely a question of power, and it seems to me that it is just cuch a use of public money and public credit that this constitutional prohibition was intended to prevent whole legislation is fraught with danger to the Commonwealth "because the necessary effect of it cannot be otherwise than to draw within the power of the Legislature and to impose upon the State and city authorities the management and control of every agency which can in any way tend to the convenience of the people or which can be supposed in any way to advance their prosperity."

FLYNN ACQUITTED AFTER TRIAL AND DOYLE

PLEADS GUILTY. tMal before Recorder Goff and a jury in the Court of General Sessions, Part I, yesterday on the charge of being implicated with William Doyle, another longshoreman, in a theft of jewelry from Miss Eliza Watson, a passenger on the steamship St. Louis, when the vessel was in port about two weeks ago. Doyle pleaded guilty, but Flynn stood trial. Flynn's defence was that he took a diamond from Doyle to a pawnshop. The stone was worth $400, but he (Flynn) did not think it worth more than 2. Doyle walted outside the pawnshop. A policeman appeared just then and arrested the two men. It was shown that a trunk which the longshoremen were handling came open and the jewelry dropped out. The case of Flynn was submitted to the jury at 4 o'clock. The verdict was not guilty.

Mr. Hamilton, said yesterday that there was absolutely no good ground on which to indict his clients, and that the taking of the case to the Grand Jury at all had been a mistake.

In the allegations it was stated that Miss Booth appeared in the tableau wearing an improper costume. This she and her manager emphatically denied.

BIDS RECEIVED FOR LESS THAN ONE-THIRD OF THOSE OFFERED FOR SALE RY THE CITY.

for additional water stock.

There were twenty-three bids submitted. The most of them were handed in just a few minutes ended. Half a dozen, received after that hour, were

He will endvertise the bonds, and hopes for better results ext time. The Controller declined to enter into my discussion as to the cause of the light bidding, as the bonds are $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and payable absolutely in gold, he was not disposed to think that he silver ag tation was at the bottom of the trouble. Acting Mayor Jeroloman, in speaking of the falling of the city to sell its bonds yesterday, said that in his opinion there were several causes for the dituation, not the least of which was the proposed barrier for Greater New-York as thus far disclosed by those having the draft of it in charge. Mr. Jeroloman said that investors were afraid to buy the bonds, first, because they feared the result of the proposed borough system; second, because the charter proposed to make a czar of the Mayor, and third, because the proposition for the greater city was bad in itself.

Pliny Fisk, of Harvey Fisk, & Sons, bankers and dealers in Government bonds and investment securities, at No. 24 Nassau-st., said: "The bonds of the city of New-York are all right. The reason the new lot was not fully subscribed for is that people who would take them are out of town. If the Controller puts the bonds up later they will be sold readily enough."

For capitalization, $3,000,000 in first mortgage bonds and in 6 per cent income bonds each, and $2,500,000 in common stock. A $500 bond in the old company, upon a new subscription of $500, is to be exchanged for $500 in mortgage and $500 in income bonds and $200 in common stock in the new. Holders not subscribing to the new bonds receive $250 in incomes and $55 in common stock.

It is intended that the work on the tunnel will be resumed this fall. The terminals remain the same as originally projected, that on this side to be in Mortor-st. The northern tunnel has been excavated nearly 4,000 feet, and the southern only a short distance from the New-Jersey side.

Mr. Jacobs is out of town, but at his office this statement of the general features of the reorganization was confirmed yesterday.

20,000 rooms, with board. This can only be done through the Admiralty Office in England, which some time ago cancelled the ship's Custom House registry after she had returned from a successful and sensational filibustering expedition to Cuba. The cancelling of the ship's registry virtually made her a prisoner. Since then she has been a ship without a nation, unable to obtain clearing papers from the Custom House. Several attempts have been made to have her cleared, but each time Captain Clipperton, the British Consul, has filed a protest with Collector Read.

John Hart, the managing owner of the ship, refused to talk about the terms of the sale. Just what the ship's new owner proposes to do with her could not be learned. It was said to-day that the steamer will sail next week for Jamaica, where the transfer 23.500 23 will sail next week for Jamaica, where the transfer to the new registered owner will be made and the legal formalities compiled with on British soil.

Various rumors concerning the Bermuda were in circulation to-day. One was that Mr. Milliard had purchased the ship for a German firm in New-York, who had been commissioned to buy the ship by the Cuban Junta, and that the vessel would be sent out as soon as possible with an important expedition, consisting of men and arms. It was further said that Colonel Aguirre had been sent to this country by General Gomez with special instructions to purchase the Bermuda or any other suitable ship, so as to hurry up the expedition. Colonel Aguirre is now in New-York.
